WEDNESDAY JULY 23, 1890. Shall We Boycott the North?

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce held yesterday evening the Atlanta proposition to hold a convention of southern business-men in the event the force bill is passed was that it would be better to make no gacity are generally recognized in the com munity expressed his conviction that if anything was needed to urge the Radical drop down below Dutch Gap instead of to lanta Cosenators to pass the bill it was to have evidence that the measure would be hurtful to southern industries.

This is an unhappy fact. It is sad to think about it. We do not believe that all the Republicans are actuated by this soulless purpose, but that most of their leaders are willing to crush us politically, socially and financially we have recent proofs that admit of no dispute.

That the force bill will be unjust and injurious to us in every respect our Senators and Representatives in Congress and our public press have distinctly and unceasingly informed the country. Sena tors especially are well posted on this point. If they adopt the measure unanimity and determination unprecedented. Then let the worst come; we will pass through the storm in safety.

We are not unconcerned about our southern sisters, but believe we can help them more effectually than by joining in a boycott. When the danger ripens all of us will have our wits roused, and a way out will be found.

City Electric-Light Plant-

The city gas-works have proved a good investment for Richmond, and the question is often asked why does not the Coun-cil establish an electric-light plant.

The double answer is generally given that we have not the money to spare just at this moment, and electric-light machinery has not yet reached that stage of make a large expenditure for it, because in a few years newer devices may render it comparatively worthless. It seems con-ceded, however, that we should look for-mit of our bonded indebtedness to make it unwise to issue any more bonds, unless to meet a great exigency, but certainly we do not expect always to remain in this situation. The assessments now being made will increase our taxables several millions, and next year we ought to be able to go forward with those works of improvement which are demanded by our growing city. The general air of prosperity here, the activity in our manufactories, the great number of new houses being built, and the organization of companies to bring suburban property into market are proofs of activity which should encourage our municipal government to make great plans future of the city. In the course of a few years our corporate limits will be extended, and then it will be lighted better and cheaper by gas than by electricity, with the probabilities in favor she must spend a large sum of money upon betterments. Not to do it is equivalent to discountenancing private enterprise. What would you think of counties of Southwest Virginia, where a merchant who refused to keep a line of goods for which his customers were constantly calling? What will the world think of amunicipal corporation that will not open up and improve streets when its citizens stand ready to line those streets with new buildings and forever afterwards pay an annual tax upon them? Assuredly we should make provision for our growth. One of the necessities of it will be an electric-light plant.

Now as to the fear that money invested in electric machinery probably will be wasted because newer inventions may make our purchases comparatively worthless. It is an argument that should excite us to caution, but should have no further effect. No doubt the same reasoning was used when the city bought her first gas-retorts, and it is a fact that improvements in gas plants have been made every year, but still the old works were not rendered a total loss. Far from it. We cannot foreclose on the future. We can only walk with the lights now before us.

When Richmond should begin to make her own electric light depends largely upon the contract with the Electric-Light Company and the length of time that will be required to establish the plant, run the wires, and put the machinery in operation.

We need not proceed at a break-neck see, but it will soon be time to take the inaugural steps, and a date-not too near; not too remote-can be fixed when the city will not only supply herself with electric light, but all her citizens who wish to be

The present City Council comes into power at a period when Richmond is making her greatest strides towards greatness. Its members will be called upon to consider the annexation question: the matter of adopting an expansible and liberal system of street improvements, and the propriety of making an appropriation of $75,000 for an electric-light plant. All these will require ability and forethought, but they can be effected within our revenues and upon such an easy and gradual plan as will tend to advance rather than to lessen the city's credit.

Senator Eugene Haue, of Maine, is said to side with Blazen as regards the tariff. There is evidently a sort of contest going as upon the lines of the question, Who is the hig man from Maine? The State is small one, save as to territory—hardly large enough to have two big men at one and the same time—and the contest seems to be as to who is now the bigger, BLAINE or Boss REED. Mr. HALE appears to vot against turning down the once-Plumed Knight yet awhile.

A War with England. To relieve the monotony of able editorials and ingenious conjectures concern-ing the force and tariff bills the newspapers are indulging in speculations as to what would become of our sea-coast cities in case of war with Great Britain. Their conclusions are that we have such a small navy and sea-coast defences so few and feeble that resistance would be almost useless. None of them seem to consider it worth while to take into account that England would not care to leave her own ports in all parts of the world without the protection of great ironclad ships while she sent her fleets to prey upon the American scaboard. No doubt we are ill prepared for war, but England would not have it all her own way. Our ships could at least alarm her enough to compel her to $25 00 keep some of her vessels near her own ter-

But there never ought to be another war between these two countries. All future disputes should be referred to peaceful arbitration, but should the British Lion turn upon us some day the thing for the United States Government to do would be to remove its capital to this city and from here conduct operations against the enemy.

Richmond is the most impregnable city in the Atlantic States. There is water enough in our river to float considerable navies, but such are the meanders of the stream near Richmond, and the defences provided by nature, that a handful of men with shore-batteries and torpedoes and obwas considered. The conclusion reached structions sunken in the channel could keep all her Majesty's ironclads at bay. than rain upon the back of a duck. We have here in Richmond not only position easily defensible, but a railroad system that would keep us in communica tion with all our country, foundries that could supply shot and shell in great abundance, and what is more, veteran soldiers to point the great and small guns and to to point the great and small guns and to this point. If they adopt the measure it will be over our protests, in defiance of our rights, and with deliberate and inexcusable purpose to libel and oppress us. That it will cause an estrangement between the sections greater than was ever known since 1865 there can be no doubt. This being so, shall we attempt to boycott northern trade? We say no. Surely some better method will be found to awaken the conscience of the North.

Virginia will feel the indignity put upon her and her sisters of the South as keenly as any State in the Union. We have here a United States Circuit judge who will show the enemy, but we shall trust to the true-hearted whites of the Commonwealth and expect to have them on our side with a James, Greenbrier, New, Kanawha and to to cheer our people with the nope that some of the Republican senators would be some of the Republican senators would be found patriotic enough, to prefer the well being of the country to party ascendancy. A Destructive Hail Storm-

All accounts agree that the hail-storm of ast Friday in Louisa, Hanover, and Goochland counties, apparently centering at Johnson's Springs in Goochland, was one of the most destructive, so far as it went, of the most destructive, so far as it went, that the State has ever known. It appears that the State has ever known. It appears that the loss of crops has been complete in the region visited and that the sufferers are hopelessly undone unless a helping hand is given them at once. An appeal is made to Richmond people as well as to others for such aid as will prevent suffering and as the farmers in the neighborhood of the devastated region are too poor to extend. Funds sent to the Relief Committee, Dabney's post-office, Louisa county, will be thankfully received and acknowledged. Read the account of the ravages of the storm in our letter from Dabney's this morning. It is from the pen of a correspondent thoroughly reliable in every way.

The north of Constitution is undoubteded sorious in this proposal, although we should prefer to regard it as an outburst of irony and humor. If there is anything that would insure the passage of the force bill by an overwhelming pressure of northern sentiment it would be the threat that unless northern people voted according to the dictates of southern politicians the suggestion, something so grotesque, that it is difficult to treat it with seriousness.

And yet we might as well sav seriously to our friend in Atlanta, who cannot dislike the force bill orang legislation akin to it more cordially than the Herald, that if he wants to see every northern and western State go Republican let him make it clear that the southerners mean to introduce boycotting into their politics. Upon that is, and the force of the Constitution is undoubtedly serious in this proposal, although we should prefer to regard it as an outburst of rival y and humor. If there is anything that would insure the passage of the force bill by an overwhelming pressure of northern sentiment it would be the threat that unless northern people voted according to the dictates of southern politicians. There is something so ward to the time when we will have our that the loss of crops has been complete in ready money in the treasury to approprints to this object, and it is also a fact that we have approached near enough to Richmond people as well as the region visited and that the sufferers are hopelessly undone unless a helping hand is given them at once. An appeal is made to Richmond people as well as

than those of some of the most boastful southern States of equal area and population, and it is gratifying to know that the reassessment returns now coming in will limits will be extended, and then it will be a question whether the new streets can be plemented to the extent of the tax of 40 electricity, with the probabilities in favor of the latter.

The city has arrived at that point when

The most wonderful increase of values is in Richmond and Henrico, Manchester, there have been great booms and large investments in iron-plants. The most unlooked-for depreciation of values is in the upper Potomac counties.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]
LLOYDS, Va., July 21, 1990.

At a public meeting held at Occupacia district on Saturday the 19th instant for the purpose of selecting delegates to the convention of the First congressional district, Captain P. C. Warring was called to the chair, and Mr. B. H. Baird appointed secretary. Upon motion the following gentlemen were chosen as delegates: Captain P. C. Warring, George W. Ellis, and H. L. Baylor.

These gentlemen are all members of the Farmers' Alliance, and representative men. They are all staunch Democrats, and I think it a good omen when we see so large an attendance of the best-read and most intelligent men of the community taking an active part in the selection of representatives. It shows that court-house and cross-road cliques have had their day, and that in the future we are to have better representatives. The feeling was very strong vs. Reedism and Boss rule generally. FRIDAY'S HAIL-STORM | ALOPECIA

ADDITIONAL TESTIMONY AS TO ITS TERRIBLE SEVERITY.

Death and Destruction Marked Its Path way-Fowls Killed and Crops Ruined-An Appeal for Aid, ondence of the Richmond Dispatch.] DABNET'S, LOUISA COUNTY, VA., July 19, 1890.

This community was visited on yesterday by one of the most destructive hail-storms ever known in this part of Virginia. The stones were of an irregular shape, averaging about the size of hens' eggs. The hail was accompanied by a heavy wind, which made the destruction of crops more omplete. Window-panes and sash were broken into fragments, turkeys and barnyard fowls killed, and where promising crops of tobacco stood nothing now remains but a part of the stalk. The corn was not only stripped of its fodder but the stalks were beaten into jelly. No destruction could be more complete.

HELP-AID THE SUFFERERS. The sufferers are hopelessly undone uness a helping hand can be given them. The farmers in the neighborhood are too poor to extend such relief as the urgency the situation demands, and the appeal is hereby made to the charitable of more highly-favored communities, and especially of Richmond, to give such aid as will prevent suffering. Any funds sent to Relief Committee, Dabney's Post-Office, Louisa county, will be thankfully received and acknowledged.

GOVERNOR GORDON'S WORDS. He Declares in Favor of the Boycott if the Force Bill is Passed. ATLANTA, GA., July 21, 1800, To the Editor of the Herald:

I am in entire accord with the spirit, tone, and practical suggestions of the Atlanta Constitution as to the use of the boycott as a means of self-preservation and commercial independence if the useless and infamous force bill becomes a law. Moreover, that spirit will possess and control approximately every white man, woman, and child in the southern States.

It may be permissible to make a personal allusion as illustrating the effect of such legislation upon our people. As the Herald knows, I have labored constantly and earnestly since the 9th day of April, 1865, in public and private, at the South and the North, to allay passion and promote unity. My highest political ambition has been to be instrumental in some degree in restoring the real brotherhood of the people and the true sisterhood of the States.

Ever since this sectional and shameful legislation passed the House I have sought to cheer our people with the hope that some of the Republican senators would be found patriotic enough, broad and brave enough, to prefer the well being of the materways the heretofore proposed connection with the Atlantic by way of the James, Greenbrier, New, Kanawha and Ohio rivers (the former James river and Kanawha canal), which route, says the pamphlet, "is already constructed from Richmond to Buchanan, Va., a distance of 197 miles, and was recently recommended by the Senate Committee on Transportation Routes." The pamphlet was ordered printed by the Senate.

The line of the old canal, or at least the tow-paths thereof, is now occupied by the tracks of the Richmond and Alleghany Railroad Company, and except here and there, where the waterway is used for power purposes, there is little to remind one that it was ever a highway for com-

This Will Never Do. [New York Herald, editorial.]

Our exuberant and original contemporary, the Atlanta Constitution, prints a long editorial urging, in the event of the pashome league clubs in the South to boycott northern goods. The suggestion is en-dorsed by Governor Gordon in a communi-cation to the Herald which we print this Republican candidate for Fresident by fifty thousand majority.

The northern people will simply not endure it. Their opinions are not for sale. Their goods, not their principles, are in the market. To be told that unless we vote as was dictated down on the Suwanee river there would be no southern markets, for northern manufactures would make the most hide-bound Democratic peddler a Republican.

the most inde-bound Democratic peddler a Republican.

No! It will never do. The northern people mean justice and fraternity to the South. They mean to put the heel upon this force bill as they did to other measures of the same nature. But it will never be done under any command from the South to subordinate their political independence to the paltry consideration of trade.

FALLING

HEAD A PITIABLE SIGHT-HAIR CAME OUT CURED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES.

In November, 1888, there came a bald spot on the back of my head. In January, 1889, this commenced to grow larger, and other spots came, until the back of my head was almost destitute of hair. My head was a pittable sight, the hair came out by the fingerfuls and seemed entirely dead. I consulted your book, "How to Cure Skin-Diseases," and found that I had "Alopeda." I immediately began the use of the Curi-cua Remedies, The hair stopped falling out, but at first I depaired of ever having any more bair. I persevered in the use of the Curi-cua Remedies, nowwer, and in three months' time a light, downy growth of hair came out, which turned dark and became coarse. Now my head is entirely well and covered with hair.

LITTLE BABY'S SKIN CURED. When my baby was about one month old a skin-disease made its appearance on his forehead, and continued growing worse until it covered nearly his whole body. A physical pronounced it eczema, and first prescribed potasium and afterwards a solution of arsenic, but no good results followed. I purchased your Curicura Remapirs, and the first lot took away almost entirely all signs of eczema. The second lot removed all signs of the disease, and the child is now perfectly well and has a fine skin. I thank you most heartly for the cure of my child.
